FARM BROADCASTERS

Austin McNorton – Farm Director

Austin is the new farm broadcaster for the Kansas Farm and Ranch Radio Network. Austin grew up with an agricultural background, his grandfather was a college livestock judging coach and his other grandfather lived and worked on the family farm. His father graduated from Kansas State University where he was a member of the Wildcats National Championship Livestock Judging Team and earned an animal science degree. With this foundation of his life Austin was a member and officer of his local 4-H club where he showed pigs and was a member and officer for his high school FFA Chapter where he participated in livestock judging contests and other agricultural local involvement. Austin comes to Kansas Farm and Ranch Radio after serving as a farm broadcaster in Southwestern Iowa, hosting a morning show talking to local community members heavily involved in Iowa ag. He is excited to represent the hard-working farmers of the state he grew up in and looks forward to sharing their stories and providing them with information.
